Lifeskills

LEARNING FOR LIVING

The Alleyway

My favourite activity was the alleyway, which was covered in graffiti and was really dark. The reason I enjoyed this activity was because I noticed we couldn't actually see where we were because the sign was covered in graffiti. Then we heard a scream! It was a woman making the noise. She was screaming, "Help! He's got a knife!" Then we heard a stab and a flop on the floor. Somebody had killed her! There was a phone box nearby so we went over and called 999. They said a police officer would be there in 20 mins. Then we moved on to the next activity.

The Charity Shop

The first thing we saw in the charity shop was an unconscious dummy under a ladder. One of the volunteers demonstrated what to do in this situation. After this, we looked at a poster on the wall that said 'DRAB' (danger, response, airways, breathing). For DANGER we had to check around us to see if there was any danger; for RESPONSE we had to stand at a small distance and say "HELLO? Can you hear me?" and then kneel down on the floor and say it again and then repeat it again in both of their ears; for airways we had to lift their chin because if you're laid down on the floor and your head is facing upward then it's harder to breathe; for breathing we had to put our cheek near their mouth (from this angle you could also check if they're breathing from looking at their chest).

The House of Fire

Another group favourite was the house fire. We all walked into what looked like a perfectly normal room. All of us took a seat on a bed and tried to take in as much as we could. When our guide asked us who wants to open the door, to our surprise, Cameron's hand was first into the air. Cautiously, Cameron opened the door as carefully as he could; only to reveal a flash of red, light and a –fake- roaring fire. We all jumped back and landed on our hands and knees like our guide. Our guide closed the door and told us all to escape through the exit (so we did). Cameron called the 'Fire Brigade', our teachers yet again, and explained everything in full detail. Once he had finished, he gave us the thumbs up and smiled. We all laughed as I retold the story of Cameron falling into our guide. If you are ever in a fire get everyone together safely and drop to your knees because smoke rises.

Bags of Help

We are running the 'Bags Of Help' again this term. Bags will be coming home tonight. They are being collected from school on Monday 24th June. We have nowhere to keep them until that day so please do not bring them in until that morning.

Thank you
